Dear Martin Warrior Families,

I want to say a big THANK YOU to our fabulous PTSA Board Members, Martin Administrative Staff, Teachers, Parents, and Students! Martin is truly the BEST high school in Arlington because of YOU! It has been an honor to serve this past year.

As our year is coming to an end, I want to give a shout out to Cindy Bradley, Bahama Bash Chair, for her outstanding leadership! She has been working an entire year to provide our Martin seniors with a drug and alcohol free after prom party that gave these kiddos a night they will always cherish. Thanks to ALL who served on the Bahama Bash Board for your dedication to make this enormously GIGANTIC, crazy, over-the-top party come together!

Thanks also to Lindsay Maher, our Communications Chair, who has done an EXCEPTIONAL job putting together Smoke Signals all year long!

Thank you to Carrie Wallace, our Media Chair, for doing such an AWESOME job with the PTSA Webpage and for all of the informative tweets!

A very special thank you to Marlene Roddy and Renee Stevens who are so supportive of Martin PTSA. You have made it a true pleasure to serve as PTSA President. You are the best there is!

Please don't forget in all the spring craziness that there are still things that will affect our schools and our city! Please vote for School Board and City Council. May 6 is election day; please go vote! Those parents with seniors who are 18 and registered - take them with you! What a great example we give by showing them the importance of making your voice heard through voting! They often fail to do what we say, but they never forget what we DO.

I wish everyone a fabulous final 6 weeks. Happy graduation to our seniors! You have worked hard; enjoy your special day. I hope everyone has a spectacular summer! Go Warriors!

Melody Fowler
Martin PTSA President

“Go confidently in the direction of your dreams.
Live the life you have imagined.” –Henry David Thoreau

6. Commit to a study area and time schedule. With a never-ending calendar of social opportunities and campus events, it's very easy for unstructured 'study time' to fall by the wayside. As early as possible, carve out specific times in your schedule to complete your readings and studying. Set realistic deadlines for yourself and stick to them. Choose a place with as few distractions as possible and make a commitment to going regularly. Selecting study partners is also important. Decide early on which of your peers are better as study partners and which are better reserved for socializing only.
7. Seek a balanced life. College life is an ever-changing mix of social opportunities, academic demands, and self-care. Try to prioritize what's most important to you in advance and then make your choices accordingly. Peers can be extremely influential in your daily habits so try to surround yourself with like-minded people who will help you maintain a balance that's well-suited to your personality and abilities.
8. Attend class regularly. Avoid the temptation to sleep in or go late to that 8 am class. Without parents or attendance requirements to keep you on track, it's a slippery slope when you start giving yourself permission to skip classes. Even if your professor is simply reviewing a presentation that is available online, you'll miss the exposure to auditory learning which will help you perform better on exams and assignments. You also risk missing vital information from professors about what to expect on exams, changes in due dates, etc.
9. Connect with students in your classes. Aim to meet at least one new person in each of your classes and exchange contact information with them. Everyone appreciates someone else making an effort to say hello, so try to overcome feelings of shyness. These connections will serve as an important resource when you have to miss a class or need to build or join a study group down the road.
10. Visit your professors during their office hours. There are only benefits to getting to know your professors, especially if later in the semester you run into some problems and need to ask for extensions or planned absences. Professors maintain office hours for the sole purpose of meeting with students to help them troubleshoot and succeed.

Summer is right around the corner! And before we hear the collective sigh of relief from students (and teachers!), let's take a look at some things (besides sleeping in—although rest is important, too!) that students can do over the summer to help prepare them for college and career. The articles below contain all sorts of ideas and helpful hints—to prepare students for the next year of high school, to better prepare them for college and career, and to help shape them into well-rounded individuals.

SENIORS 2018

deadline Sept. 15 deadline S

Dear parents of Class of 2018 seniors,

You will undoubtedly receive many solicitations to buy commemorative items recognizing your child's upcoming graduation, but few will retain the value of a senior tribute in the yearbook. The award-winning Phoenix yearbook is 375 pages of full-color, digital photos, incomparable memories and fabulous fun. Your child will cherish the yearbook because it is a magical ride into the past. Programs and senior pictures may end up in the garbage. A yearbook lasts forever.

Senior ads are purchased separately from your yearbook order. Ad purchases are due by Friday, September 15, 2017 (we have a strict no exceptions policy). To accommodate a variety of budgets, we offer several size options. A full page measures 9" x 12".

You may pay by credit or debit card online at yearbookforever.com or pay with check by mail. Ordering online is easiest: you'll simply upload images, type your sentiment and pay with credit or debit.

To order by mail, follow these directions:

1. Complete the order form below and mail it with payment to:

Martin Yearbook
4501 W. Pleasant Ridge Rd.
Arlington, TX 76016

2. Email your picture selections. We do not accept original "hard copy" prints, only high-quality electronic images (at resolution of 300 dpi). Please name each photo with a first and last name (Ex: Jonathan_Doe_1). Put your student's name in the "Subject" field of the e-mail and send to: mhsphoenixyearbook@gmail.com.

Mark your 2017-2018 calendars!
